

TANZ IM AUGUST

Welcome-Guide

Your Guide to Berlin

The Tanz im August team has compiled a small list of useful things to know, interesting places to visit and nice restaurants and bars. It is by no means a complete guide to Berlin but a small selection of the things we thought you might need during your stay! An expanded Welcome-Guide is available as a digital map. TheLink can be found on our website.

Getting Around

Public transports (BVG)

Info-Hotline + 49 (0)3 19 449

Virtually every corner of the city is accessible by U-Bahn (underground system), S-Bahn (local train network), tramway or bus. You can find the quickest way to get from A to B on the website of the local public transports company BVG: go to www.bvg.de, click on "Fahrplanauskunft" and enter your starting point and your destination.

Berlin is divided into three price zones: A, B, C. Unless you need to go to the very outskirts of town, you will only need a ticket for zone AB. For every ticket there's a reduced price category, which only applies to children between the age of 6 and 14. Tickets can be purchased at ticket offices, from automatic dispensers or from bus drivers. Please note that tickets must be validated by automatic ticket stampers located on train platforms, in buses and tramways.

Below is a list of tickets allowing you to travel on buses, trams, and by U/S-Bahn, for the zone AB:

Short trip ticket (a "Kurzstrecke") allows you to travel a distance of maximum 3 U/S-Bahn stops or 6 bus stops: 1,70 Euro

Single ticket 2,80 Euro

Daily pass 7 Euro

7 day travel card 30 Euro

Monthly travel card 81 Euro

WelcomeCard or CityTourCard entitles you to travel on buses, tramways and by U/S-Bahn for 48 or 72 hours, or for 5 days. The prices vary depending on the extra-services you might book. One adult and three children up to the age of 14 can travel with one ticket and get concessions on various tickets for museums, the zoo, etc.

Rent a bike

Berlin is a great city to cycle around, and your bike is often the quickest way to get from A to B. Like in London or Paris you can "rent" a bike and return it to another station after having reached your destination. This service is offered by different providers, i.e. LIDL-Bike, Nextbike or Donkey Republic. A smartphone is required.

City tours

By bus

Many operators offer guided tours, tickets cost between 15 Euro and 30 Euro for a hop-on-hop-off tour. Departure points: Alexanderplatz (in front of the Hotel Park Inn), Wittenbergplatz (in front of the large department store KaDeWe) and many others all over town.

Bus 100 and Bus 200 (Prenzlauer Berg - Zoologischer Garten)

A cheaper alternative to city tours. You get a good overview of the city's most interesting sites and buildings. These are public transports routes and you can get on and off wherever you want. Number 100 goes through the big park Tiergarten, while bus number 200 takes a southern route.

By boat

Boats sail from various piers: Jannowitzbrücke, Schloßbrücke Dom / Museumsinsel, Friedrichstr / Weidendammer Brücke, Hansabrücke, Haus der Kulturen der Welt, Schloßbrücke, Bonhoefferufer, Charlottenburger Ufer

By foot

There are several tours offered by Berlin experts who take you on a walk around Berlin's alleyways and secret spots. You can have a look at tours online, for example on <http://www.berlinwalks.com/> or <http://www.insidertour.com/>.
